"Keep going. Don't stop Norton, till you are back in town. I'll manage to take good care of myself." (To be continued.)

GEORGIA RACE GETS EXCITING

Slaton, Hardwick and Felder Are Today in the Battle To the Finish

Atlanta, Ga., August 31.—Every train leaving for Macon Monday was loaded down with politicians, newspaper men and lookers-on, all bound for what promises to be the greatest and most exciting political convention Georgia has known since the days of reconstruction. It will be the largest in point of attendance and will nominate more high officials, ranging from two United States senators down to an unexpired term for the court of appeals.

The great battle, of course, is over the short term senatorship for everything else practically is settled. And the first move toward this will be the election of a temporary chairman, the man who will open the throttle of the steam roller. It is odd, too, that the fight for the place is likely to revolve about two brothers, now most prominently spoken of for the place. They are Solicitor Joseph E. Pottle of Milledgeville, a hot Hardwick supporter and a past master of political manipulation, and Robert Pottle, of Albany, former justice of the appellate court and a warm Slaton supporter. There is apt to be a pretty debate over this election.

If the Felder people or the Hatchena supporters come forward with a candidate for this place it will tip the scales for a considerable time. The temporary chairman holds the reins of power as he appoints the credentials committee, which has been known more than once to decide all contested counties in their own favor and throw out many a perfectly good bunch of votes which went for the other man.

Governor Slaton, Congressman Hardwick, Senator Hoke Smith, William J. Harris, Senator West, Governor-elect Nat Harris and all the high dignitaries of Georgia will be on the ground, and in fact most of them are there today, ready for the big battle tomorrow. After many conflicting reports, Senator Hoke Smith decided to attend the convention and arrived in Atlanta from Washington last night, leaving for Macon this morning. He had so many telegrams urging him to attend that he felt his refusal might be misconstrued.

Hardwick must land 64 more votes from somewhere before he can carry the convention. There are indications that the stage is set for an attempt to stampede the convention to him. But so far there is no evidence that the Felder delegates are ready to break to Hardwick or anybody else. It may be that in his talk of tradings and controlling Hardwick has claimed some votes he will have a hard time collecting.

The convention opens tomorrow morning. Politicians say it will either be over on the second or third ballot or last all the week with deadlock after deadlock. Certain it is, if there is any move toward crookedness, a howl will go up which will be just as loud as the fall of Habersham to the marshes of Glynn.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—The Bavarian crown prince, Rupprecht, who is in command of one of the German armies in announcing the death of his son, Prince Luitpold, to the King concludes his telegram with the following words, "Duty commands action, not tears, at the present time."

Prince Luitpold died recently of inflammation of the throat, according to an Amsterdam dispatch.

Capital City News

Special to The Intelligencer.

Columbia, August 31.—The warehouse committee, having several representatives from each county will meet in Columbia tomorrow night to discuss plans for holding the South Carolina cotton crop. T. Frank Watkins will represent Anderson.

Mendel L. Smith of Camden, who was among the visitors in Columbia today, predicted the election of Richard L. Manning as governor of South Carolina. He said that Mr. Manning would carry Kershaw county, the home of John F. Richards. Mr. Smith said that it was the duty of every voter to go to the polls September 8. In the first primary Mr. Smith doubled Mr. Richards in their home county.

The Baptist committee will tomorrow take control of the Knewlton hospital, recently purchased for a state sanatorium.

John G. Richards has gone to the Piedmont section of the state in the interest of his campaign for governor.

Capt. William E. Gonzalez, American minister to Cuba, is among the visitors in Columbia. He is away on his vacation. He was former editor of The State.

HELPLESS AS BABY

Down in Mind Unable to Work, and What Helped Her.

Summit Point, W. Va.—Mrs. Anna Belle Emey, of this place, says: "I suffered for 15 years with an awful pain in my right side, caused from womanly trouble, and doctors let for it, but without success. I suffered so very much, that I became down in mind, and as helpless as a baby. I was in the worst kind of shape. Was unable to do any work."

I began taking Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got relief from the very first dose. By the time I had taken 12 bottles, my health was completely restored. I am now 45 years old, but feel as good as I did when only 16.

Cardui certainly saved me from losing my mind, and I feel it my duty to speak in its favor. I wish I had some power over poor, suffering women, and could make them know the good it would do them."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, it will certainly be worth your while to give Cardui a trial. It has been helping weak women for more than 50 years, and will help you, too.

Try Cardui. Your druggist sells it.

MARKET REPORT

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Aug. 29.—All Board of Trade speculative markets advanced today, wheat to 2 to 2 1/2-c; corn 1-8 to 1-c; oats 1-1-2; and provisions from 7 1/2 to 50c. Oats enjoyed the best market of the day, the volume of the trade while only fairly large, being equal to that in wheat and corn combined.

Dry Goods

New York, Aug. 29.—Cotton goods are very much unsettled and irregular. The declining price of cotton is deterring the buyers from operating in any firm way, and financial complications of many kinds resulting from high money, add to the difficulties of adjusting the values. Print cloths continue very weak and prices are low. The printers are stopped from operating because of the closing of avenues for exports and difficulties attending the securing of dry-stuffs supplies. Fine combed yarn goods continue very steady and the demand appears to be broadening. Certain grades of heavy sheetings hold their values because of large sales made for bag purposes. Denims, tickings and other heavy cotton goods, are not being offered for late delivery as dyers are unable to secure materials to supplement the limited stock on hand. Duck seems steadier. Jobbers and retailers are confining their operations to nearby purchases as a rule. Trade in the middle west continues above the last year. Mills continue to curtail by extending the periods for annual vacations of operatives. The feeling is very strong among the merchants that eventually, when money and transportation difficulties are removed, there will come a large demand for export which will aid in bringing about a much healthier condition as to prices. Values are more or less nominal, quotations being as follows: Print cloths 28 inch 64 x 64s, 2-1-2c; 64 x 60s 3-3-8c; 35 1-2 x 64 x 64s 4-3-4c and 4-1-2c.

YOUTH IS DROWNED.

Hugh Mooney Lost Life at Greenville.

Greenville, Aug. 31.—Hugh Mooney, 15 years of age, an employee of the Samspon mills, was drowned Sunday afternoon while bathing in Clairmont lake, about three miles from the city. The young man and two companions were in the lake when Mooney went out over his depth. He could not swim and neither of his companions being swimmers, they were compelled to stand in shallow water and watch Mooney come to the surface three times and finally disappear. His body was recovered by a diver one hour after he sank. The young man has neither father nor mother, but is supported by three sisters and two brothers. His brothers were on the shore when he was drowned.

Robert A. Cooper of Laurens, who so nearly missed a chance to be governor of the state, has wired the Intelligencer in reply to an inquiry, that he will do everything that he can to elect Mr. Manning governor.

A dispatch from Laurens says: "Robert A. Cooper, accompanied by his little daughter, left this afternoon for the mountains of North Carolina, where he will spend a few days resting, after the strenuous campaign through which he has just passed."

"Mr. Cooper was asked last night by a representative of the press if he cared to make a statement in reference to the recent election, and replied as follows:

"I am deeply grateful to the people of the state for the magnificent vote given me in the first primary. The support given me in my own county and the other counties of the Piedmont section where I am best known is amply sufficient to take the sting and bitterness out of my defeat. I can never fully express my gratitude to the thousands of friends who rallied so nobly and unselfishly to me, but I shall endeavor to so act in the future as to show them that their confidence was not misplaced."

"Do you propose to take part in the contest between Messrs. Manning and Richards?" Mr. Cooper was asked.

"I shall cast my vote for Richard L. Manning and do what I can to promote his election," he replied. Continuing, Mr. Cooper said: "I believe Mr. Manning is in a position to better serve the state than is Mr. Richards."

"My slogan throughout the campaign was 'Vote for your State' and I shall follow the advice given to others."

"I do not for a moment think that I could deliver the vote cast for me to any other candidate, and I have no disposition to do so, but if I should at this time refrain from stating my position I would be misunderstood, and I make this statement, in order that there shall be no doubt now or hereafter as to where I stand."

Of course there was great disappointment in Laurens when it became known that Mr. Cooper had been debarred from making the second race for governor, but all have joined in congratulating him on the magnificent vote he received from all parts of the state. He has received letters from friends throughout the state expressing regret and at the same time offering congratulations on his manly campaign and great vote for the highest office in the state.

At The Theatres

Palmetto Theatre.

The bill at the Palmetto this week is an exceptionally good one. Two separate and distinct acts. The Russian-Henri Comedy company, and Baby Athlete Alabazra. The little girl with the big voice. This little lady is an artist in every sense of the word, being endowed with a wonderful voice, resonant yet sweet; and delighted a packed house yesterday, being ably assisted by Alabazra, who is a magician when it comes to tickling the ivory. Manager Pinkston has spared no expense to get these two acts at the Palmetto this week, as either of the performances would be a feature.

Bijou Theatre.

A company of thirteen people are furnishing the amusement at the Bijou all of this week. The Harms Musical Comedy Company is some show to the expression heard on all sides. Ten wretched musical merry maids and three comedians of note. If you are superstitious and think that 13 is unlucky, you'll quickly change your mind after seeing a performance at the Bijou pulled off by the Harms Musical Comedy company. You'll consider yourself lucky to have the (good) luck to see such a good show.

The new maid absolutely cannot cook, and the meal she prepares arouses the ire of Mrs. Hightstrung, who attempts to discharge her. Princess Mona Darkfeather is the most famous Indian actress in the movies. She has done more to show film fans the real life of the aborigine than any other living person.

In "Mrs. Billington's First Case" she has been a law student for a number of years and, much against the wishes of her husband, determines to take a case as soon as she receives her diploma. Her husband, a prominent attorney, discovers who her client is and pays the prosecuting attorney a handsome sum to allow him to handle the case. Mrs. Billington is defeated by her husband, and the humiliation stings her to the core. She later agrees that the woman's place is at home, and the river of marital happiness runs smooth once more.

Impare the System, Shorten Life and Do Great Harm.

If you knew that you could cure yourself or your child of a malignant disease by the use of dynamite, would you take the chance?

Calomel acts on the sluggish liver like dynamite on the solid rock. It shocks and upsets the organs and works much harm as proven by its after effects.

Modern science has discovered a vegetable substitute that produces all the desired effects of calomel without the shock or after troubles. It is so harmless that acids may be taken into the system immediately after the medicine without fear of after effects.

It rids liver, kidneys and bowels of all poisonous accumulations and leaves the patient feeling new and strong.

FORT MILL IS GLAD.

York Town is Gratified at Result of Lancaster Election.

Fort Mill, Aug. 31.—The election of S. E. Bales in the first primary to the house of representatives from Lancaster county over this three competitors in a source of much gratification to the people of Fort Mill inasmuch as he is considered more or less in the light of a Fort Mill man, living as he does within a few miles of this place, and is the brother of John J. Bales, proprietor of the Fort Mill Lumber company. Mr. Bales is a young man, 27 years of age, a graduate of Clemson College, class of '09, and is a progressive and successful farmer. For many years past it has been a very hard matter to elect a man to the legislature from the panhandle of Lancaster county and Mr. Bales should feel very much complimented at the handsome support given him by his fellow citizens.

I am not a slacker or a quitter. I am ready to put my shoulder to the wheel for good government.

W. L. Mahaffey, Williamston, August 31, 1915.

"Bill" Mahaffey Says the Principles He Advocates Will Survive.

Please give me space to thank my friends for the vote they gave me on the 25th instant. I go down in defeat, but the principles for which I stood can never die.

I did not give in defeat. I find myself acquitted of any unmanly word or deed during the whole campaign. And I feel stronger for good government. I have just begun the fight. With me it is not a question of political office but the question of a square deal.

I shall endeavor to prove myself worthy of the confidence my friends had in me and the cause I represented. Here language fails me and I cannot express my thoughts to my friends.
